Gallery Update 3

Hi there
Friends

Although it's not long since we last 'spoke' our lives seem to be topsy turvy with this new 'normal'. We hope and pray this finds you as well as can be.

Isn't it ironic that since before Christmas the weather was not conducive to browsing galleries and since lockdown it has been beautiful and now you can't? But you can still visit our website which we are constantly updating.

So what have you been doing in isolation? Some ideas I've tried:

Ideas and evasions:

- Painting pebbles
- Making birthday presents/cards
- Sorting out the sock drawer
- Going through and logging old photos—lose hours this way
- Practising hand writing
- Moving furniture
- Updating ipod

Good News items:

- Raina Goran has been short listed for the Jackson Painting Prize! Whoopee.....
- Peter Keegan is exhibiting with us when we reopen. Yay!

Peter is also giving online tutorials. 1-2-1
So if you're too shy to paint in front of others - here's your chance.
As a tutor - one of the best!
